

BAFTA Scholarship Programme in China – Frequently Asked Questions

Q. How much funding does the scholarship offer?

Chinese nationals can apply for up to £20,000 towards course fees at an industry-recognised UK institution, plus up to £10,000 for living expenses. British citizens can apply for up to £10,000 for a course in mainland China or Hong Kong, and up to £10,000 for living expenses. The scholarship recipients will also be mentored by industry professionals, and have free access to BAFTA events.

Q. I'm not a Chinese national or a British citizen. Can I still apply for a scholarship?

A. The BAFTA Scholarship Programme in China is only open to Chinese nationals, including Hong Kong residents with Chinese nationality, or British citizens. Other nationalities are not eligible to apply.

Q. I'm from China. Do you have a list of eligible courses in the UK?

A. Yes, the UK courses on this list are eligible for a BAFTA Scholarship.

Q. I'm from China and my chosen course isn't listed as eligible for the scholarship. Can I still apply?

A. To be able to apply for a scholarship to a UK institution, your course must be on the list of eligible courses.

Q. I'm from the UK. Do you have a list of eligible courses in China?

A. We don't have a list of eligible courses in China, but we will consider applications for courses that meet the following criteria:

1. A practical course in film, television or games, where the core studies relate to a craft eligible for BAFTA awards recognition.
2. No more than two years in length, including short courses.
3. Provides Chinese language training for non-fluent speakers, or is taught in English.
4. Taught at a Chinese institution (not an outpost of a foreign university) based in China.

Q. My place on the course will not be confirmed until after the deadline for the scholarship application. What should I do?

A. You can apply for the scholarship before your place on your course is confirmed by uploading a letter confirming your application to the course. However, if you are invited for an interview, we will need confirmation that you have been accepted onto the course before we can confirm whether you have been selected for a scholarship.

Q. I am older than the average student; can I still apply for a scholarship?

A. Yes, there is no age limit for applicants.

Q. I am currently an undergraduate. Can I still apply for a scholarship?

A. We welcome applications from anyone who will be on an eligible postgraduate course from September 2016. You may be a current undergraduate whose course ends this summer, or you may be returning to formal education after some years.

Q. My course will start in 2017. Can I still apply this year?

A. If the course year starts between September 2016 and July 2017 you can apply for a scholarship this year but, if you are invited for an interview, we will need proof from the institution that you have been accepted onto the course.

Q. I will have already completed one year of a two-year postgraduate course. Can I apply?

A. Students entering the second year of an eligible two-year course can apply for a scholarship, but we would advise them to explain in their Personal Statement how they were able to finance the first year of their course.

Q. I've missed the deadline can I still apply?

A. Unfortunately we cannot accept any applications after the deadline.

Q. I'm a British citizen and would like to study in the UK or the US. Can I apply for a BAFTA Scholarship?

A. Yes. British citizens can apply to study in the US with a scholarship from BAFTA Los Angeles here. Scholarships for British citizens to study in the UK will open in the coming weeks here.

Q. I have a question that hasn't been answered here. Who can I contact?

A. Please check out the information on the Scholarships in China home page. If you still have a query, please send it to us at scholarships@bafta.org.
