

SIMON PEGG

- A. I'm wearing Karl Lagerfeld with a Lanvin bow tie.
- Q. You think that --
- A. I know that it's Karl Lagerfeld and yeah I went to a place and -- because if you wear the same thing people would notice and they'd complain.
- Q. Which is odd when you're a guy I think.
- A. I know.
- Q. Because it's essentially the same outfit isn't it?
- A. So I went to a place and I borrowed something especially.
- Q. Your citation reading tonight, what award are you giving?
- A. I'm giving out best adapted screenplay with Jennifer Garner, Mrs Affleck.
- Q. That's a nice little gig to have.
- A. Yeah, she chose me and I think it's going to be -- it's a tough one. Everyone in that category is a humdinger so I don't know who is going to win.
- Q. Up next for you Star Trek?
- A. Star Trek out in May and then World's End out in August.
- Q. Are you still filming World's End?
- A. We've finished principal photography and it's now in the edit and it's all coming together and looking rather splendid. I'm very excited about it.
- Q. How cool to say words like principal photography.
- A. It makes me feel important, I want to look like I know what I'm talking about.
- Q. It's one of those things they say to you and you go "That's banked".
- A. I just heard it a couple of times and now I say it every now and then.
- Q. I'm going to pop that into Red Carpet interviews. Check me out. I like the sound of that. Have a great night tonight. Thank you very much.
- A. Thank you.
